

Joseph Farmer (Teach First) uses a tool for cold calling

- "I use it as a cold calling tool. The students enjoy the spectacle of it (even if just for taking bets on which colour it will land on). Usually I will ask a discussion question and use the wheel to get it going. The rule is that everyone has to have a go at answering. I have the whiteboard at the opposite end of my classroom to the data projector so I'll often nominate someone to spin the wheel for me from behind my desk."
